

CLASSY CLEAN OF JAX · ISSUE #1

THE GRIME SYNDICATE

Five repeat offenders. One owner-operator. Jacksonville, Florida.

MADAME MILDEW

BARON VON GRIME

THE DUST BUNNY KING

THE CLUTTER POLTERGEIST

THE FUR PHANTOM

PANEL 1

DRIP!

Nine straight Jacksonville summers. One bathroom fan nobody ever switched on.

PANEL 2

She started small — a shadow in the grout, a freckle on the caulk line.

PANEL 3

CREEEAK

By August she had the shower door, the ceiling corner and the bath mat under contract.

PANEL 4

The homeowner scrubbed with a supermarket spray. Madame Mildew laughed in humidity.

PANEL 5

SCRUB!

Then a deep clean arrived: grout lines scoured, seals treated, air moving again.

She was born in a shower nobody bothered to squeegee.

HOW IT ENDS

Deep cleaning strips her territory back to the tile. Keep the fan running and she has nowhere to move in.

BARON VON GRIME

PANEL 1

He arrived as a spill somebody promised to wipe up after the meeting.

PANEL 2

SPLAT!

By Wednesday the microwave door was his. By Friday, the keyboards had surrendered.

PANEL 3

Staff stopped eating at their desks. Nobody could say exactly why.

PANEL 4

HISSS

The Baron thrives on skipped touchpoints and half-hearted wipe-downs.

PANEL 5

SHINE!

A proper office clean took the counters, the appliances and every handle he held.

One coffee ring on a Monday desk. That is all it took.

HOW IT ENDS

Office cleaning on a schedule leaves him no surface to colonise. The break room smells like a break room again.

THE DUST BUNNY KING

He crowned himself the day the drywall dust settled.

PANEL 1

POOF!

The contractors packed up at four. His kingdom was fully staffed by five.

PANEL 2

Subjects gathered under every bed, behind every fresh baseboard, inside every vent.

PANEL 3

Sweep once and the court simply reassembled overnight.

PANEL 4

WHUMP!

Post-construction dust is fine enough to hide in the paint and the air alike.

PANEL 5

CLEAR!

HEPA vacuuming, wet wiping and a top-down pass emptied the throne room.

HOW IT ENDS

Post-construction cleanup ends the dynasty — including the fine dust a household vacuum only redistributes.

THE CLUTTER POLTERGEIST

PANEL 1

THUD!

Boxes nobody packed. Cables nobody bought.
Scuffs nobody remembers making.

PANEL 2

He drifts from address to address, one forgotten closet at a time.

PANEL 3

Landlords call it a deposit dispute. We know exactly who is responsible.

PANEL 4

SWOOSH

Empty rooms are his favourite haunt — every mark shows on a bare wall.

PANEL 5

SPOTLESS!

Inside cabinets, appliances, baseboards and blinds: cleaned, checked, handed over.

He woke up inside a moving truck and never fully left.

HOW IT ENDS

A move-in / move-out clean sends him drifting off and the keys change hands spotless.

THE FUR PHANTOM

PANEL 1

He is beloved. He is also on every cushion in the house, permanently.

PANEL 2

FLOOF!

Fur travels: the couch, the rug, the stair edge, the one black jacket you own.

PANEL 3

Vacuum on Monday and the haunting is fully restored by Thursday.

PANEL 4

SWEEP!

Recurring visits catch the shed before it works its way into the fibres.

PANEL 5

PEACE!

Nobody was rehomed. The Phantom keeps the couch; the fur does not keep the house.

A very good dog, and a very persistent haunting.

HOW IT ENDS

Recurring standard cleaning keeps the truce: he stays fluffy, your sofa stays presentable.
